SENATE GIVES ITS APPROVAL

Adopts School Measure Passed by House.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE TO BE COMPULSORY

Pupils Must Remain in School Until They Are at Least Sixteen Years of Age.

[illegible], April 27.—The senate [illegible] to the action [illegible] to pass the [illegible] Representative Berry Gaddis county, [illegible] the requirement [illegible] and [illegible] years old or [illegible] school [illegible]

The senate has passed the Fouts bill providing a soldier fund levy of 1-3 of a mill for state [illegible] and a similar levy for other state [illegible] of the state and the [illegible] aid. It is estimated the bill will raise, during the next two years, $3,[illegible],000 for the state institutions and a similar amount for the institutions controlled by the state board of Administration. These levies are outside the [illegible] permissible law limitation.

By a vote of four to three, the senate committee on manufactures and commerce turned down the Scrimper bill, authorizing the governor to appoint a minimum wage commission. The committee reported out a substitute bill providing for a minimum wage commission made up of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor and attorney general.

No Church Taxes.

"We consider the substitute bill the 'joker' in the deck and we ask the real friends of the minimum wage bill to vote against this proposed surrender," declared Miss Rose Moriarty, Cleveland, who [illegible] among the delegation of women workers who urged personally the legislators to pass the Scrimper bill.

The senate has tabled the Brand resolution, which sought to provide for an investigation of industrial, agricultural, marketing and housing conditions throughout Ohio.

By a vote of seventy-one against and twenty-four for, the house defeated the Brenner bill providing for taxation of church property. The senate and house have passed the Matthews bill providing for an audit of the books of the Miami conservancy district by the state auditor.

For a Recess.

The house has adopted a resolution providing for a recess from Friday, April 29, to May 12. Although the house has asked the senate to adopt a similar resolution, it is claimed, senate leaders have decided to recess, this month, until next January, instead of adjourning sine die.

Governor Davis, it is understood, wants the legislators to adjourn sine die.

In caucus, house Republicans decided to adopt, this afternoon, the Fouts compromise taxation resolution proposing the adoption at the November election of an amendment to the state constitution, placing a five-mill minimum tax on intangible property and prohibiting deduction of debts from credits in listing property for taxation.

The senate, by a vote of thirty to two, adopted the Whittemore resolution classifying property for taxation and limiting the tax rate in municipalities to eighteen mills and that outside municipalities to fifteen mills. Senator Cornell, Wayne county, Republican, and Senator Reynolds, Cuyahoga county Democrat, voted against the resolution.

Senator Burke Republican Lorain county, announced that while the resolution did not suit him he would vote for it in the hope that it would help the legislature get somewhere in the effort to solve the taxation problem.

procure would not be in keeping with either the positive character of Mr Hughes or the attitude taken by the administration that the United States has a vital interest in the prompt settlement of the reparations question.

Assuming, after the elimination of any uncertainty as to meaning, or the possibility of a "joker" that the proposal were found reasonable to this government, several obstacles might still remain in the way of carrying out the third possible course of procedure

Secretary Hughes is understood to be pretty well informed as to the attitude of the allied governments toward the proposals, as a result of his conferences with the ambassadors of those countries, yesterday and today. Though no official light has been thrown upon this phase of the situation, it is believed that Italy is ready to support the United States in any stand it may take Japan, it was pointed out, is not primarily interested in reparations

England Pleased.

Great Britain is favorably impressed at the prospect of reopening negotiations, according to unofficial but apparently well-founded reports from abroad The British government, however, is fully aware of the delicacy attaching to the position of mediator and the British foreign office has let it be known that it would be most embarrassing to have France put in the position of refusing to resume negotiations Lloyd George is on record as opposing further occupation of German territory, except as a last resort and a large element of the British population is understood to be opposed to occupation under any circumstances In view of these facts, France apparently would hold the key to the situation It is known that a considerable element of the French are opposed to mediation of any character and will not be satisfied until the French army has made its advance further into Germany Whether that element is of sufficient influence to balk the Hughes plan for reaching a settlement, remains to be seen

At the state department, it was intimated that the full text of the note might be made public during the day, though the possibility of its being held until the reply is ready was admitted

In Proper Manner.

Washington, April 27.—The United States government is proceeding in a perfectly proper manner to bring to the attention of the allies, in a manner satisfactory to them, Germany's new indemnity proposals it was said authoritatively today, in response to inquiries as to the progress of the reparations matter

Various reports reaching Washington that France had notified the state department of the unacceptability of the German terms; that the United States had sent counter-questions to Berlin and that other interested nations had made inquiries or communicated their views to the state department, were officially denied.

It was stated that this government has not yet transmitted anything of a formal nature, either to Berlin or to the allied governments, nor have any of the interested nations made any formal communications to this government What steps that have been taken, it was stated, have been purely informal.

It was emphasized at the state department that this government's steps in the matter are being directed solely in conformity with the last sentence of Secretary Hughes' note to Germany which was.

"Should the German government take this course * * * * this government will consider principing the matter to the attention of the allied governments in a manner acceptable to them, in order that negotiations may be resumed."

Officials of the state department were careful to give no indication as to whether this country will transmit the German proposals or refuse to transmit them Reports that this government would not transmit the proposals were not borne out by the statements of officials

Not Verified

Washington, April 27.—Reports cabled from Paris that the French foreign office has instructed Ambassador Jusserand to notify the American state department that the German reparation proposals are unacceptable to France, could not be verified here today At the French embassy it was officially stated "the embassy will neither deny or confirm these reports."

Ambassador Jusserand was preparing to leave, today for Pittsburgh, accompanying Vice President Coolidge Both will be guests there at the Founders-day celebration of Carnegie Institute

An examination for clerks and carriers in the local postoffice service will be held May 21 in the postoffice building There are openings in the office for substitutes on rural routes and ex-service men will also be given preference in these positions, it was announced by Postmaster Frank T. Campbell, this morning

It will be a great mistake for you to delay until Saturday seeing Mr Johnston at Heuney & Cooper's Mr. Johnston's last day in Marion is next Saturday and it will be a busy one.—Adv. 130-1

ened over gold payments It was reliably reported that the directors of the Reichsbank had decided to defy the government and refuse to surrender gold that was promised to the allies in the new proposals

"Some of the demands are almost unbelievable," declared Herr Ruppel "Italy demanded 5,000 lira for each of 1,420 cases wherein it was alleged that unsuccessful attempts had been made by soldiers to attack girls Portugal demanded 6,000,000 gold marks on the ground that 300,000 negroes had been killed in the African jungles Liberia demanded $8,000 each for 200 Liberian negroes who were said to have been massacred

"We were saved from this expense when we found the negroes hiding on an island Many French negroes are polygamists and we were called upon to pay pensions to harems full of dusky widows. We have contested the above and many more cases and we are now awaiting a corrected bill from the allies, on or about May 1."

CREDIT TO PUT FARMER ON FEET

as a means of effecting the credit remedies on behalf of the farmers The board recently approved a drop in the rate for the Boston reserve bank.

Comptroller Crissinger said that high bank rates which farmers are forced to pay in many agricultural states are due to the excessive rates legalized by the states

Many Arrests.

Youngstown, April 27.—Thirty-one saloonists were caught here in a raid, last night, by fifty-one federal and local officers Twenty-four cafes were visited and evidence taken At only one place was resistance encountered when a prohibition agent was struck over the head with a bottle and had his clothes badly torn. Many taken in the roundup will face federal court as second offenders.

Killed in Fight.

Dublin, April 27.—During an eight-hour battle between Sinn Feiners and crown forces at Klimilk'n, County Galway, today, Constable Boyland was killed and a constable and a sergeant were mortally wounded The casualties of the attacking force are not known The crown forces were ambushed by a detachment of fifty republicans

Pleads Guilty.

Columbus, April 27.—Pleading guilty to embezzling over $124,000 by making false entries in the bank's records, Edmund E. Fox, thirty-one, former assistant cashier at the National Bank of Commerce here, was sentenced, today, by Federal Judge Sater, to five years in the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Shoots Himself.

Columbus, April 27.—After reading a psalm book in the chapel of Trinity Episcopal church, Broad and Third streets, today, Walter F. Smith, twenty-two, World war veteran, fired a bullet into his body near his heart. His condition is deemed critical.

TEMPORARY FIVE-HOLE GOLF COURSE SATURDAY

'Twill Be Ready for Play Then, It's Announced.

REPORT IS MADE AT MEETING OF DIRECTORS

Committee Named To Look After the Greens and To Hire Professional Golfer.

A temporary golf course of five holes will be completed at the Marion Country club Saturday and will be used for play after that day, according to reports made at a meeting of directors of the holding and selling companies of the club today evening in the office of W. T. Jones.

This temporary course is located at the section of ground where the second nine holes are to be laid out and has been put in so that it will not interfere with the construction of the first nine holes of the permanent course.

Earl Lee B. I. Blake and Carl LaMarche were appointed members of the greens committee and authorized to engage a professional golfer to spend two days each week at the club to give instruction to members. This committee will take over the temporary course as soon as it is completed.

Club House Nears Completion.

W. T. Jones, chairman of the building committee reported that the club-house is nearing completion and expects the building to be completed in two weeks. R. T. Lewis, chairman of the furnishing committee, reported that all of the furnishings for the building have been purchased and will be installed just as soon as the building is ready.

F. A. Huber, chairman of the grounds committee, announced that plans are under way for the construction of a road from the Prospect pike to the club-house and for a drive around the building. A house committee composed of Fred Haberman, Jr., C. L. Landon and R. T. Lewis was named to have charge of the locker quarters and install lockers for the use of members desiring such space.

Quantity Required

One gallon of THRIFT Paint when properly reduced and properly applied, will cover 300 sq. ft., two coats, on a fairly smooth surface; therefore, the quantity required for any given work is determined by dividing the number of square feet of area by 300; thus a building whose dimensions are:

Front ..... 40 feet wide
Rear ..... 40 feet wide
Right Side ..... 75 feet deep
Left Side ..... 75 feet deep
Total .....230 feet
Multiplied by
Height ..... 30 feet

Equaling 6900 square feet, divided by 300 square feet, shows a requirement of 23 gallons of reduced THRIFT Paint—11½ gallons THRIFT Paint, 11½ gallons Linseed Oil. This amount varies according to the condition of the surface to be covered—an increase being necessary for soft porous work, and less for very hard smooth surfaces.

Daily Proverb—"Hypocrisy is a sort of homage that vice pays to virtue."

But what will soviet Russia do to satisfy its lust for gore when all the intellectuals over there have been murdered?

There are some things the supreme council of the league of nations may be able to do, but it can hardly give away something it doesn't possess, and get away with it.

Statistics show that railroad trains have to jump the track 115 times to occasion a death. When it comes to jumping the track, the auto's mortality record has that of the train beaten to a frazzle.

English cutlery manufacturer closed down his factory and bought 100,000 butcher knives from Germany because the price was less than it would cost him to make them. If this happens much, consumers in other countries will pay the indemnity for Germany.—Columbus Citizen.

Here's a rather good protective tariff argument to come from a paper of the Citizen's leaning on the subject of the tariff.

The Bucyrus Telegraph seems to be so much elated over the fact that the Crawford county capital is to have a clean-up week that one might assume she never had one before. As a matter of fact, though, that is only the Telegraph's way of pushing a good thing along. Bucyrus is and has long been one of the cleanest and best-kept of the smaller cities of the state.

BACK TO THE DAYS OF WILD WEST.

There is a sardonic commentary on our civilization in the announcement that postal employees in the Middle West have been armed with shotguns and revolvers as a precaution against bandits. As a result of numerous train and highway robberies it has been found necessary to go back to the days of the pony express of the early sixties. It was a hazardous business to carry mail in the West in those days, and the horsemen engaged in the service had to be armed to the teeth to repel the attacks of bandits and Indians.

What is the cause of the recrudescence of banditry of a character so audacious that it has been truthfully said it was hardly exceeded by the exploits of Jesse James? Portraying of daring crimes in the movies say some; contempt for human life that was bred of the war, say others, while a third opinion is that disrespect for the law shown by lynching parties and tar-and-feather episodes is to blame. Probably all of these are factors.

Whatever the cause, there is need of drastic steps to meet the situation. In arming postal service workers the postoffice department seems to have adopted the only method that has so far been found effective in counteracting the holdup man.

A BUSINESS BAROMETER.

Were the question put, "What provides a true index of business conditions?" possibly most everything would be suggested before one would guess the article the use of which enables a treasury department official to feel the pulse of the business of the nation-at-large. Because iron and steel enter so largely into all industry the state of that business has been held as indicating trade conditions, and it does, but to get at what the steel business in the aggregate shows would be vastly more difficult and complicated as an index that the indicator in use by the official referred to.

The instrument by which business conditions are measured is nothing more than the little wad of tobacco wrapped around with paper and known as the cigaret. It tells accurately whether times are flush or otherwise; whether conditions are growing better or worse. When times are good cigarets are smoked in vast numbers. The possessors are generous in passing them around. But let a pinch come and they tighten up not only in the number smoked, but in their generosity also. When lots of cigarets are being smoked money reaches the treasury in volume. When the smokers are hard up the revenue bureau knows it.

There are many bitter enemies of the cigaret, but it is thus seen to fill a valuable function. When better times return we shall know it by the zeal with which cigaret users smoke up.

THE SPRING DRIVE

MAINTAINING THE ROADS.

There is one phase of President Harding's suggested program for domestic reconstruction, the importance of which should not be overshadowed by what may be considered the major problems of the day, and that phase deals with highway construction, and the necessity for making some provision for the repair of the roads. In his address to congress, he said:

"I know of nothing more shocking than the millions of public funds wasted in improved highways because there is no policy of maintenance. The neglect is not universal, but it is very near it. There is nothing the congress can do more effectively to end this shocking waste than condition all federal aid on provisions for maintenance. Highways, no matter how generous the outlay for construction, can not be maintained without patrol and constant repair. Such conditions insisted on in the grant of federal aid will safeguard the public which pays and guard the federal government against political abuses, which tend to defeat the very purposes for which we authorize federal expenditure."

The importance of our highways as feeders to the railroads, and as "the smaller arteries of the larger portion of our commerce," has long since been appreciated, but in the process of centralization which has been going on during the past decade there has been a decided tendency on the part of the states to "let the federal government do it." Since the previous administration was actively engaged in a policy of centralization, not only of state functions, but of legislative functions as well, this tendency on the part of the states was encouraged, rather than discouraged, with the result that the independent spirit of the states in which formerly we took such pride has been seriously weakened.

Nearly thirty years ago a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, C. W. A. Veditz, by name, pursued his doctorate degree at the University of Halle, in Germany. While there he took for his thesis the effect of highways on the cost of farm produce and on the cost of living generally to the consuming public, reducing the problem to a system of mathematical formulae which, under normal conditions are susceptible of verification to a nicety. His observations disclosed the advantages both to consumers and producers, particularly agricultural producers, of an adequate system of highways kept in good repair. That thesis was developed at a time when the automobile was looked at with suspicion, and the motor truck was almost unknown. Practical experience in the last ten years has corroborated Dr. Veditz, even though the results have not been reduced to mathematical certainties. Economically and spiritually, good roads are the best missionaries.

President Harding lays claim to no originality in his suggestion for a patrol system to keep in repair those roads which have been helped with federal funds. That system has been practised by France for many years. Germany maintained such a system, and Spain maintains what she terms the "caminero" system to keep her roads in good repair. The Spanish system was adopted by General Wood, when governor of Mindanao, and also while he was military governor of Cuba. It employs a man to take care of a certain mileage of road, dependent on its character and it is his duty to keep it metalled and drained.

It would seem that the states which receive federal funds for road building, could well adopt the system as suggested by President Harding.

That old one about living within your income appears to have lost much of its appeal since the income tax went into effect.

THEORY PANS OUT BADLY.

From Russia comes the report that Lenine is discouraged, and that one of the soviet government's commissions has had to put the ban on some of his speeches in which he practically gives up hope of success along soviet lines. His experiment has now been on trial three and a half years, and it is the general opinion of competent observers from other countries that things are steadily going from bad to worse in Russia.

It really is enough to discourage any theorist. Human nature is simple so primitive that it won't be made over in a year, or three years, or a decade, or a century. It persists in remaining what it has always been. Lenine can't understand it, but perhaps other persons can.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Hall Naylor]

THE LESSON OF HILDEBRAND.

"Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor—and to wait!"

For—"he also serves who only stands and waits."

All the great men and women the world has ever known and honored have known how to work—and to wait.

He who works and waits—serves well.

He serves himself; he serves the world.

He serves his own interests; he serves humanity's interests.

Let's learn a lesson from the life of Hildebrand.

To the Catholic world he is known as Pope Gregory VII.

Whatever we may think of the aim which inspired him to unremitting zeal, continuous effort and untiring patience, we must admire him as a strong man—must appreciate the example he has shown.

Hildebrand lived in the dreadful days of the Dark ages.

The chaotic world was sadly in need of government; and it understood nothing but absolute authority coupled with resolute force.

The world of that time had to be ruled.

And it had to be ruled by temporal power—or spiritual power; had to ruled by robber chiefs—or by the church.

And Hildebrand was the man of the hour.

He was born of humble parentage, in Italy, in the year 1020.

He was the son of a lowly carpenter.

But he had force of character.

He was a man of decision and action.

He knew how to work; but he knew how to watch and wait, too.

He learned to read and write; then he worked—and watched and waited.

In time he became a priest.

Then he went on working—watching—and waiting.

At the age of twenty-nine he became the prior of his convent.

But he just continued to work—and watch—and wait.

Doubtless he had an end in view; doubtless there was a goal toward which he aspired.

He became cardinal—archdeacon.

Still he worked—and watched—and waited.

He undertook important missions; he curbed the turbulent spirit of the Roman princes; he assisted in all ecclesiastical councils.

And kept up his working—watching—waiting.

He served as prime minister of a pope—of a second pope—a third pope—a fourth pope.

But he never forgot to work—and watch—and wait.

At last he himself was chosen as pope.

He had come into his own.

He had received his reward.

Why did he succeed—this lowly son of an ignorant carpenter, this humble monk from the sunny slopes of Cluny?

Why did he become one of the greatest popes of the church?

Because he had a high aim; because he wasn't afraid to hard work; because he possessed unflagging energy, unconquerable zeal and eternal patience.

Because he knew how to work—and watch—and wait.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XVII.—OHIO

THE Northwest Territory, of which Ohio is a part, was a bone of contention between Spain, France and England. Spain's claim was based on the voyage of De Soto up the Mississippi river. France, through the explorations of La Salle from the north and the early entry of French priests from Canada, considered this territory theirs. As for England, she rested her claims on the discovery of North America by the Cabots, and in the charter granted to Virginia included all the country lying to the West.

The French were the first to get a foothold in Ohio, but the English pioneers, who shortly began to drift westward, firmly established their settlements in the fertile Ohio valley. After a long period of warfare, in which the Indians played a leading part, the Northwest Territory was finally ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Independence in 1783. And Virginia and other states, which had laid claim to portions of this region turned over their rights to the federal government.

The government of the Northwest Territory was formally created by the ordinance of 1787. People from the East migrated into this territory in such numbers that by 1803 Ohio was taken into the Union as the seventeenth state. The fourth largest state in size of population, Ohio has 24 electoral votes for President, while in area, with its 41,060 square miles, it ranks only thirty-fifth, which shows how densely it is populated. It is noted as the state of Presidents. President Harding makes the seventh Ohioan to fill the presidential office.

The name Ohio is derived from the Iroquois word O-hee-yo, meaning "beautiful river." It was first applied by the Indians of the Five Nations to what we now call the Allegheny river, one of the chief tributaries of the Ohio. Gradually the name came to include the whole river, sometimes even being applied to the Mississippi. Later it was confined to the river between Pittsburg and Cairo, and appropriately the first state formed on its northern bank was named after it. Ohio is often called the Buckeye State from its large number of horse-chestnut trees.

OHIO KIWANIS TO MEET AT LIMA IN SEPTEMBER

District Officers Fix Convention Dates Yesterday.

MAYOR T. E. ANDREWS ATTENDS GATHERING

A. H. Miller, Toledo, Not a Candidate for Kiwanis Internationale.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 26, 27 and 28, were the dates set for the annual Ohio district Kiwanis meeting at a session of the Ohio district officers and trustees at Lima Tuesday. Mayor T. E. Andrews, district trustee of the Marion Kiwanis club, attended the meeting.

At this session A. H. Miller, Toledo, district Kiwanis governor, announced that he is not a candidate for the office of president of Kiwanis Internationale and asked his friends to abandon whatever efforts they may have in mind toward boosting him for that place. Governor Miller stated that the Ohio district this year is acting as host for the international convention and he does not think it proper, under the circumstances, for any Ohioan to ask for an international office. He expressed his appreciation of the efforts made by his friends, but said that he can not consider being a candidate for the office.

The Ohio district meeting will be held at Lima, Monday, September 27, will be given over to registration and the sessions of the state meeting will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, September 27 and 28. About forty district officers and trustees attended the meeting and were guests of the Lima club at luncheon at noon.

Is the Electrical System of Your Car "Hard" on Your Battery
THE COOPER BATTERY
"Renders the Longest Length of Service Per Dollar"
Why the Cooper Battery Gives Maximum Service Regardless of Electrical System
To build a battery which will give maximum service regardless of the demands made upon it by the starter, lights, etc., requires men who know electrical systems as they know batteries. Our engineers have studied electrical systems, their peculiarities and the demands they make upon the storage battery. With this knowledge they have designed and supervised the construction of each part right in our own factory. As a consequence, they have made it possible for every Cooper Battery to give the same dependable, maximum length of service, regardless of the type of electrical system.
Minimize Your Battery Troubles by Buying a Cooper Battery Guaranteed 2 Years.

BOLSHEVIK MARRIAGES AND THEIR DIVORCES

Unable To Shake Queer Customs and Superstitions.

COUPLES NOT ALLOWED TO WHISPER ON BENCHES

This Is a Ruling Applied by Communists and Is Enforced in Parks.

Herewith is printed the third of a series of six articles by J. Herbert Duckworth, distinguished American correspondent, who broke into Soviet Russia without passports, by crawling under the barbed wire on the Esthonian-Russian frontier and dodging the Red guards. In this series Duckworth deals purely with the human interest side of experiences he encountered.

By J. HERBERT DUCKWORTH.

(Copyright 1921 by select Features Company.)

All the world loves a lover—except perhaps the Bolshevik.

Sentimental young moujik worry themselves over Soviet trade agreements and third International, about as much as young American does over League reservations.

Pskov, one of the most ancient and picturesque towns in Russia is a depressing place these days. The shops, owned by the hated "little capitalists" are all shut and boarded up, and the citizens are mostly in rags. The only color lent to the scene, beside the dirty and tattered red flags that flutter from the windows of Bolshevik and anti-Bolshevik alike, is provided by the unconquerable and buoyant spirits of the youth and maidens.

It was spring when I was in Pskov. And, the clock having been pushed forward under Lenin's daylight saving scheme, it did not get dusk until 1 a. m. Lovers flourish on rainy evenings.

What They Do.

The young people of Pskov parade by the dozen up and down or perch themselves two on the benches inside the Kremlin where old men used to sleepy town, or hold hands just as they do in your town. To be sure, I saw the words of his Majesty are far more vital than the high-sounding rhetoric of Trotzky.

Kissing is no longer made in the Pushkin fashion. Kvass and sunflower seeds can no longer be purchased in unlimited quantities.

But now, under the blight of Bolshevism failing to please from neglect. But who cares? The stage may be bare, but love's great dramas and little comedies go on just the same.

I sat one evening under the acacias by the thousand-year-old wall in Gorod-sky park watching the passing throng. Ivan tried to look jaunty in his much-patched shirt and worn-out shoes by cocking his peaked cap a little bit more than usual over one ear. Manya could still find a bright colored handkerchief for her head.

Agents of Terror.

But the dreaded agents of the terror were stalking about this little Arcadia. A couple nearby were whispering on a bench when two Red guards came along and arrested them.

"Vochem dielo?"—What's the matter? I asked a neighbor.

"Nichevo"—"It is nothing"—; I suppose they think they must be counter-revolutionists because they were whispering to each other," he answered with a careless shrug.

The arrest and repeated rearrest of everybody in Soviet Russia is part of the studied plan of the extraordinary commission to keep the masses in a state of fear and terror. Whispering is against the law. People must not stand on street corners and chatter. Lovers must not exchange confidences in private. The girl might be an agent of the counter-revolutionists and under cover of pretended flirtations pass secret orders from one active anti-Bolshevik to another.

Against the Church.

Many of the Bolshevik marriage laws greatly shocked the conservative moujik. For instance, the Bolshevik said it was not necessary for a priest to marry a couple. This was part of the plan to exterminate the church. But the moujik won't hear of any such heathenism.

The moujik is now permitted in so far as it is possible under Communism, to observe his ancient ways. Marriage customs among the Great Russians are interesting. But the topsy-turvy conditions under Bolshevism have naturally made it necessary to modify many of them. For instance, in former days friends visited the home of a couple the morning after the wedding.

To the accompaniment of singing, dancing and the banging of old kettles and pans smashed a big earthen jare porridge pot to the ground. The bride must pick up the pieces. If she gathered up the last tiny speck it was a sign that she would prove a thrifty and industrious wife. The act was also a sign of submission to her husband. But, alas! pots are too precious to break in this age now.

The Real Boss.

The father is the real boss in old-fashioned, that is non-Bolshevik families. New-fangled notions about the freedom and independence of young people do not appeal to his conservative nature.

For centuries couples have been brought together in the villages—for a consideration—by the Svacha—woman marriage broker.

"But nobody wants Bolshevik rubles these days," an old priest in Zayitchya explained to me, "so the Savacha must do something else to earn her daily bread."

A young moujik will overlook homeliness in his young bride so long as she is a good worker. These marriages of convenience, work rather well, under Communism, according to the priest. Men and wife are kept so busy making a scant livelihood that there is no time to squabble.

Another good thing communism has done for Russia. It has put a stop to husband poisoning, once a frequent occurrence, and one not to be surprised at considering that couples were not consulted about their marriage. Now that the Bolsheviks have put the "apoteek"—apothecary—out of business with the rest of the tradesmen it is impossible for an unhappy wife to buy a death potion with which to remove her lord and master.

He Only Smiles.

The moujik smiles at modern Moscow's notion of the equality of the sexes. He is no feminist. He rules his household his own way, Lenine or no Lenine. A woman does not possess a soul, he maintains, only "steam." "Long hair, short wit" is one of his proverbs.

Outside Zavitchya was a sign stuck on a wayside post. Besides the the number of "souls" in the place was given. And by souls I found only men and boys were intended. Women, having no souls, were left out of the reckoning!

The lot of woman in Red Russia is as bad, if not worse, as in the days of the czars. Five-year-old girls are still the little mothers to the younger members of the household. I saw everywhere girls of twelve minding mixed herds of cattle, goats, horses and black sheep. I even saw them behind ploughs.

Girls are still married off at fourteen to begin lives of even greater drudgery. Wedding day songs in Russia are invariably sad. "Goodby my freedom' is the favorite intoned by sobbing voices of the older women. Alexandra Kollantay, "minister of children's welfare," entirely has a plan to improve the lot of the children. She would abolish the family entirely and make all children wards of the state!

"Strict Moral Code."

Russian peasants are non-moral, not immoral. Like the savages they are "dark," as the Russian says, and have frequently but the faintest conception of a strict moral code.

In nearly all villages the whole family sleep together in the one large room of the farm. At the first farm house in which I passed a night there was, however, a little regard for the decencies. The grandparents occupied one corner, the married son and his wife a second, the children in a third and the young girls and women the fourth. I, their guest, on a bundle of straw was given the center of the floor to share with the livestock. What with the cackling of the hens, the squaks of a young pig, the snoring of the old folks, the whispering of the girls and the yelling of the babies my slumbers were rather feverish.

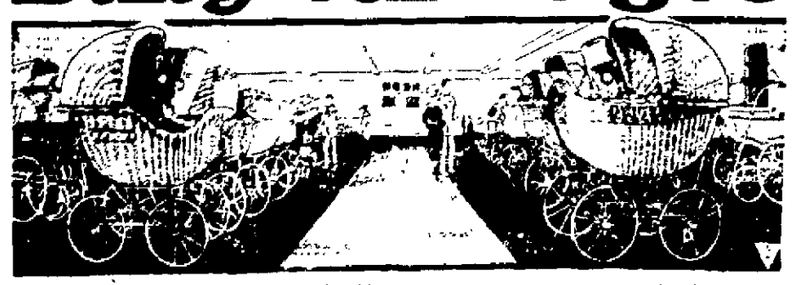
Baby Carriages

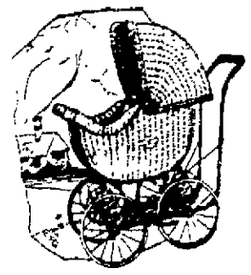


Of all the different types of carriages in this world, baby carriages are without question the most important. The first essential is their riding qualities, and every carriage in our vast display was selected because of its delicate spring construction, built to absorb all jolts and jars. Every style and type of carriage is represented in our large display.

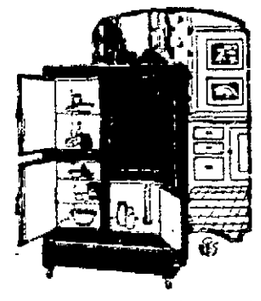
Next in importance comes the beauty of the carriage itself and the ease with which it can be handled. The beautiful new bodies made of genuine reed, shaped by hand and finished in the very latest color combinations, combine these two essentials to a remarkable degree. Prices on these handsome new carriages start as low as $19.75.

Reed Baby Carriages, $50.00

Here is real evidence that lower prices are in effect. This reed baby carriage in either frosted brown or blue finish, lined with corduroy and constructed with extra delicate springs is a wonderful value at this special price. Convenient credit terms will be arranged if you desire.



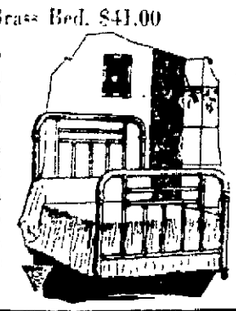
This Large Size Side Icer, $54.00



There is no other style of refrigerator that is so convenient and popular as the side icer model. A spacious food chamber with a white enamel lining and removable shelves, removable drain pipe and a smaller compartment for butter, eggs and milk make this refrigerator the last word in usefulness and convenience. Its ice capacity is 50 pounds.

Massive Brass Bed, $41.00

Every woman who needs a brass bed will be interested in this great value! Built with massive 2-inch continuous posts, and extra heavy fillers, it is a bed that will give a lifetime of service and satisfaction.



White Enamel Cribs, $27.50

These white enamel wood cribs are just the thing for a mother who wants an attractive looking crib for her baby. They come complete with wire fabric springs and ordinarily would sell for a great deal more.

"Makers of Happy Homes"

To the motorist who has quit guessing about tires—

ALONG about this time of year a man finds his motoring neighbors getting anxious about their tires. With folks expecting old tires to "pop" any minute, there comes the question of what kind of new ones to buy.

U. S. Tires are answering a lot of questions like this nowadays.

The U. S. Tire following embraces two kinds of tire buyers.

Those who started with quality first, and have never bought anything else but the quality standard tire.

Those who came to quality first only after dabbling with "bargains," "rebates," "job lot" and "surplus stock" tires.

Getting one hundred cents value on the dollar in tire buying is a straight-forward business proposition—not guess-work or a game of wits.

The most essential man for you to know today is the local U. S. Tire dealer who is concentrating on a full, completely sized line of U. S. Tires.

He gets his U. S. Tires straight from his neighboring U. S. Tire Factory Branch—one of 92 such Branches established and maintained all over the country by the U. S. Tire makers.

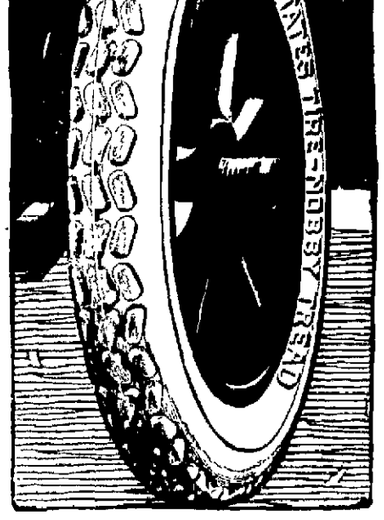
He is the man who can give you fresh, live tires—not stuff shipped to him from some point where it did not sell, but new tires of current production.

Giving the same quality, selection and price-advantage to the owner of the medium weight car as the big car owner gets. With equal service and buying opportunity whether he lives in the smaller localities or the greater centers of population.



THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD

Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.

Its very simplicity—two diagonal rows of oblong studs, interlocking in their grip on the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

"The most essential man for you to know today is the local U. S. Tire Dealer."

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Ellicott McCormick, Director of Press

Citizenship Day, July 4.

Every club federation in Ohio will conduct a program in observance of "Citizenship" day, July 4, and make it an annual event if the recommendation of Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, federated club leader of Ohio, is carried out. Mrs. Sharp, having adopted the suggestion of Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker, of Texas, general federation chairman of the citizenship committee, urgently requests all clubs to make special effort to observe the Fourth of July jointly with "Citizenship" day. She stressed the importance of such an observance at the Northwest conference of the Ohio federation at Van Wert, April 19-20. The observance is to be for the new citizens of every town. New citizens in this instance mean, of course, the foreigner who has become Americanized and the American boy and girl who has become of age during the year.

Mrs. Sharp suggests that "Citizenship" day be made a memorable occasion. "Have a parade, bands and anything that will make the day long to be remembered," she said at Van Wert. "Write to General federation headquarters, No. 415 Maryland building, Washington, for printed material for the proper observance of this day."

Gratifying attendance marked every session of the Van Wert meeting. All sessions were held at the Young Women's Christian association building. Van Wert club women showed extraordinary talent in their musicale which followed a banquet April 19. It was one of the delightfully surprising features of the convention.

In her address at the afternoon session, Tuesday, Mrs. Sharp expressed the hope that next year every club observe "Federation" day "and get acquainted with your year book, your directory, your city, state and General federations."

The general chairman of the Van Wert convention, which was a pronounced success in all particulars, was Miss Rose Punathan. Mrs. B. F. Ridenour is president of the city federation. Van Wert women assisting in the program were Mrs. Daniel McGurk, Mrs. Frank Bines, Miss Lydia Burton, Mrs. Nelson Wister Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. E. S. Combs, Miss Lillian Jones, Miss Grace Ridenour, Miss Hazel Gleason, Mrs. Harry Webster, Miss Eleanor Jones, Miss Ann Hughes, Mrs. C. H. Kennedy, Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Mrs A. B. Himes, Mrs. Augustus Kurns and Miss Helen Longworth. Mrs. Charles C. Hess, Festeria, is the vice president of the Northwet district.

Ohio Federation Note.

Dr. Alice Johnston, Columbus, the new health chairman of the state federation, has just returned from Washington, where she visited General federation headquarters. While there she gained considerable information that will be of much aid to her in carrying out plans for her state work for the Ohio federation.

Here's a golden opportunity for club women. Write to Miss Alice Boardman, statehouse, Columbus, and have her send you free of charge save express a packet library, one to ten books, for thirty days, or a traveling library, fifty to sixty volumes, for three to six months.

Madam Geurin, "the poppy lady of France," asks that all club women wear a silk poppy Memorial day in memory of the lads in Flanders' field The poppies are to sell for ten cents apiece and can be secured from Miss Isabel Mack, Indianapolis. All the money thus derived is to go to the fatherless children of France.

Community singing ought to be adopted by every club. Community song boks, the kind used at the state convention, can be secured for five cents the copy at "Community Service, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City."

COULD NOT WORK FOR TWO MONTHS HAD RHEUMATISM

Marion man crippled up in his joints and muscles sore and drawn; his suffering was terrible.

Dreco did him so much good that he got a bottle for a friend of his. Dreco now sells at old price.

"I was in such bad shape from rheumatism that I had to stop work about November first and laid off for two solid months, unable to go back on the job," says Mr. Albert Powell, who resides on East Center St., Marion, O.

"The rheumatism was all over my body, in every joint and muscle, I believe. My muscles were sore and hard and felt like they were drawn up. My joints ached and seemed like they were dry; every move caused intense pain and I couldn't sleep from the suffering.

"I was in such bad shape that something had to be done, so I began taking Dreco, as it was spoken of so highly. I want these words published for the benefit of other sufferers. After being away from work two months, two bottles of Dreco did me so much good that I am again on the job every day, and my rheumatism is gone. I am getting a bottle of this grand medicine to take to a friend, who is in bad shape with rehumatism, and I feel sure it will overcome his troubles, just as it did mine."

Dreco is made from roots and herbs, which seem to drive out all traces of rheumatism. When the kidneys fail to strain the poisons from the blood, but remain in this vital fluid, rheumatism soon shows up and the patient suffers untold agonies. Dreco aids weak kidneys in eliminating these poisons, and that is why Dreco results are quick and lasting.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in Marion by The Rexall store and in Prospect by Osborn & Son. —Adv.

DR. STARNER TO ERECT BIG OFFICE BUILDING

It Will Occupy Site of Garage Fire.

'TWILL BE OF FIVE STORIES AND WILL COST $100,000

Building Is To Be Modern in Every Respect—Sixty by 165 Feet.

Dr. A. A. Starner will erect a five-story modern office building on his lot on south Main street at an estimated cost of $100,000, it was announced today.

The lot on which this building will be erected is sixty by 165 and is located opposite the Marion County Telephone company building.

The proposed building will be modern in every respect and will include elevator service, something that is needed badly in Marion, Dr. Starner believes.

The building will occupy the site of the one destroyed by fire and occupied by the Hoch Motor Sales company last February.

NEW COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY AIDS BANKS

Cuts Red Tape in New Blanks Sent Out.

Marion banks have received their blanks on which to make their statement to the national comptroller of currency on conditions at a certain period to be fixed by the comptroller in the near future. These blanks are the first sent out by the new comptroller of currency, D. R. Crissinger, Marion, and contain seventeen schedules to be filled out. The last statement asked for by John Skelton Williams had twenty-nine schedules attached. With an average of half an hour for filling out each schedule, the new blanks are a saving of six hours to each bank, and in the nominally 8 000 national banks, there will be a saving of 48,000 hours of work. Then, too, bankers state that the elimination of the twelve schedules and the six hours work, does not detract from the financial value of the statement as regards the resources of an individual bank.

The rain continued most of the night and early this morning the sun came out bright and warm, but only for a short time when the sky clouded and it began to rain again.
